I'm writing a very specific addon in which I need to fetch some data. I do that by calling a function in my main.py. It says something like this: from dynamicnodes import * from main.models import * def fetch(self, test, context): if request.method == "POST": response = session.query(DynamicNode).filter_by(ID=test).all() if response: return set(response[0].fetch_something()) else: return [] But I also need to do the same thing in my wxPython GUI and have the same thing happening.
