WASHINGTON — A 5-year-old boy was killed by a car that was driving dangerously at the intersection of Anacostia Drive and Fisher Street in Woodridge. Police said the driver, 44-year-old Ricardo Rivera, was distracted and failed to yield to traffic at the intersection of Anacostia Drive and Fisher Street near the Brookland School around 6:15 p.m. on Tuesday. The child was hit by the northbound car and died from his injuries at a local hospital. Two adult men were in the driver’s seat and passengers of the northbound car were a 3-year-old and a 7-year-old, according to police. Police did not immediately release the names of those in the car. The accident left a young girl, who was not in the car, unharmed. Police and the D.C. Office of the Chief Medical Examiner are investigating the incident and charges are pending, according to police. “Our hearts go out to the family and friends of this young child,” said Chief of DC’s Metropolitan Police William “Buz” Blackmon in a statement. “We’ll do everything possible to hold the driver fully accountable.” Police asked that anyone with information about the incident call the police tip line at 202-727-9099 or Metro’s anonymous tip line at 202-962-2131.The recent publicity for the upcoming return of The X-Files with the official premiere of season 9 on January 25, 2016 has only attracted the attention of rabid fans to this new story, and many might wonder how many of the previous plot line falls back into place now that the story is back in progress

M. and K.L., right), using a prophylactic vaginal device (left). Intrauterine devices can be inserted during any type of abortion. (Photo courtesy of The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists) If you use abortion drugs, talk to your doctor about a long-acting contraceptive such as IUD or implant as a way to protect against the increased risk for pelvic infection (see image, below). If you terminate a pregnancy by using a laparoscope Use a device to dilate your cervix. Most often, this is accomplished by using a mechanical instrument called a cone. A person with this experience should be able to perform this procedure. Use a metal or plastic sheath on a sterile, lubricated hollow needle or other injection device to help seal the endometrial cavity after abortion. Use caution and follow directions — different people prefer different speed or torque settings, and the experience of the person performing your procedure can affect the success of the procedure. After insertion, use another instrument to retrieve the uterine contents and discard them. If you need to dilate your cervix at the time of another type of abortion, before the abortion procedure, use the instruments provided for inserting the abortion drugs and implant. Do not use your fingers. Safety Safety of early abortion medicines, implants and procedures The following section offers safety information for early abortion medicines, implants and procedures. Although medical instruments have made very good improvements in safety, any procedure is potentially harmful, so every effort must be made to protect the safety of the patient. From the creators of the "Battle Royal" franchise comes a new mode of battle where your goal is to eliminate all your enemies by utilizing strategic planning. White House Reborn will be playable at NeoGAF. Overview: The introductory battle is an area battle, where a certain length is set and only one of the two teams is allowed to attack. Each match has a set limit on the total number of hits that can be made before a turn; after exceeding the limit, the turn ends. You are allowed to attack every enemy on your field with hits from your battle. Furthermore, in the field battle there is a 3rd "unseen" player, who can assist your party. This player can also perform attacks; however, every attack drains a certain amount of magicka, which is made visible to the participants of the battle as an 'energy meter'. Whenever there is a match in the White House Reborn battle mode, there is a maximum level of magicka that can be used to perform battles. White House Reborn takes place during the second phase of the battle. There will be a total of four stages: White House, the Renaissance, The Wild West and the Last Stand. You can only clear the first two stages. In each of the first two stages, the battle will be finished in two turns. The following two stages will be completely mapped out in a much larger field. The battle will be decided by the first team to reach ten thousand points. In case of a tie in the following stage, the winner will be decided by which of the teams have the most supply reserves. In case of a second tie, it will be decided by which of the teams have the most supply reserves. The team that has the largest supplies will stay in the battle. The remaining supplies will be eliminated from the battle after the second battle. The winner of the battle will be awarded with 150 gold, and the loser gets 50 gold. You need to have at least 20 seconds supply left in order to use the item. Supplies are not conserved in the field battle. How to Play: When you start the battle, you will get your following information: - The turn time limit, the magicka limit and the remaining time available to the battle. You can only attack the enemy when the limit is reached. When a turn ends, the turn timer will start counting down. When the turn timer reaches zero
