It contains lots of dynamic objects (sprites) and other objects that are simply containers for the dynamic ones. The only problem is that they are moving and so you could accidentally click on one. I tried to use MouseEvent.CLICK and I managed to catch the event when the mouse is over the container, so at this point, I know where it is, but I don't know where it was clicked. Any help is greatly appreciated. Thank you. A: Generally you need to setup a listener on the container that allows you to trap mouse clicks when they land on a child of the container. Here's some code for ActionScript 3.0 on (MouseEvent.CLICK) { trace(evt.target); } on (MouseEvent.MOUSE_DOWN) { trace(evt.target); // let's say you are on a myContainer2 that is a child of a myContainer. myContainer.addEventListener(MouseEvent.MOUSE_DOWN, onMyContainerMouseDown); } private function onMyContainerMouseDown(e:MouseEvent):void
